Letter of Reference for C & B Development Inc.

We recently had a fast track job that needed a contractor that could respond in a quick time, and perform to a high standard. We solicited several bids, and C & B was the low bidder, however that was not the entire criteria. Speed, and performance, and quality of workmanship were. We reviewed all the bidders, not just the low bidder, but in our view C & B had the potential to meet all our expectations.

These expectations were met, and the work was performed in and to a high standard. The subcontractors were impressive, and the project management was timely, and detailed. Needless to say the project came in under budget and on time to the day. One thing that stood out was that the project was started without plans, and C & B developed the plans as the job progressed. In fact many facets of the work exceeded the general development criteria we provided C & B, and their standards were higher than those specified. That is almost an unheard of thing in today's construction industry, and was most welcome. Each and every job received the "finishing touch", and without prompting.

We can, and do recommend C & B unconditionally and for our future work in the San Diego area they are our first choice.
